Watford at War: 80 Years Since Victory in Europe

Watford's community came together during Britain's greatest crisis—contributing time, money, and materials to the war effort.

The Outbreak of War
War was declared in September 1939. Conscription began immediately for men aged 18–41, while others volunteered with the Red Cross, Home Guard, or Civil Defence. Everyone had a role to play.

Making Do
With imports blocked by German U-boats, rationing began—first petrol, then food. Campaigns like Dig for Victory encouraged people to grow their own. Local land like Cassiobury Park and Harwoods Recreation Ground was turned into allotments.

Supporting the War Effort
Watford residents raised funds through campaigns like Spitfire for Victory, sponsoring Spitfire W3456. Scrap metal drives, donation of everyday goods, and even pets contributed to the cause.

Women at Work
With men away, women filled essential roles—in factories, farms, and beyond. The Women's Land Army worked the fields, often under tough conditions, keeping the nation fed.

Watford's Welcome House
In 1938–39, the Kindertransport rescued 10,000 Jewish children. In Watford, Kathleen Freeman welcomed some into her home, forming lifelong bonds. She continued her child welfare work post-war and was later awarded an O.B.E.

Preparing for Attack
From 1935, Watford made preparations—Air Raid Precaution wardens enforced blackouts, volunteers joined the Home Guard, and defences like tank traps and pillboxes were built. Local youth Jimmy Perry would later draw on his service when co-creating Dad's Army.

Victory and Aftermath
VE Day on 8 May 1945 brought spontaneous celebrations. Over 10,000 people gathered in Cassiobury Park. Yet, war with Japan continued until September. The aftermath saw housing shortages, continued rationing, and long-term impacts on daily life. However, this time also brought lasting reforms—like the founding of the NHS.

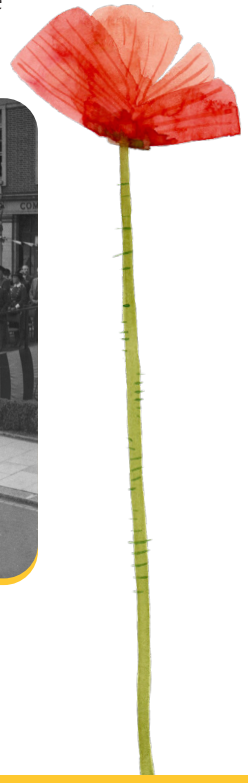

I Vow To Thee, My Country

I VOW TO THEE, MY COUNTRY I vow to thee, my country, all earthly things above
Entire and whole and perfect, the service of my love
The love that asks no question, the love that stands the test
That lays upon the altar, the dearest and the best
The love that never falters, the love that pays the price
The love that makes undaunted the final sacrifice

And there's another country, I've heard long ago
Most dear to them that love her, most great to them that know
We may not count her armies, we may not see her king
Her fortress is a faithful heart, her pride is suffering
And soul by soul, and silently her shining bounds increase
And her ways are ways of gentleness, and all her paths are peace
